

The Cobb is an enormously innovative and versatile, high-quality stainless-steel, portable cooker from South Africa - designed to 'liberate the chef' in all of us.

The Cobb can roast, bake, smoke, fry, broil and BBQ, but is amazingly compact (weighing only 4.0 Kg) and completely portable - ideal for weekends away at the bach or on the boat, but equally at home, err, at home.

This is also a highly efficient unit which uses only around 300 grams of charcoal for 2 hours of cooking (although the efficient compact design means that a 2.0 kg chicken is done in just 1½ hours).
